.....Alkara has fallen in love with two books that are equally suitable for educating children or as beautiful coffee table adornments. They are entitled 'Rhino' and 'Tiger' and are written by Joanna who has encapsulated the genre of animals in art, from Dali to Delacroix and many more inbetween who have been inspired to include these charismatic creatures into their masterpieces across the globe. They are beautifully illustrated and if the content, and price of £9.99 each were not enough of a temptation, Joanna is giving all the proceeds to animal conservation projects.
